Close Lab 9: Comparing loans with various interest rates
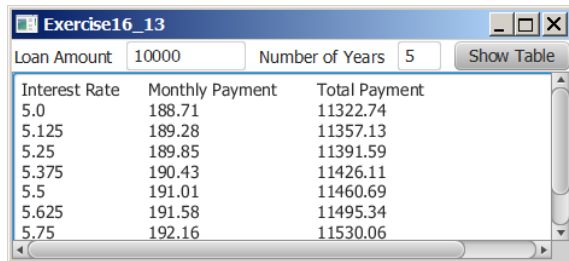

Problem Description:

Rewrite Exercise 5.21 to create a user interface, as shown in the following figure. Your program should let the user enter the loan amount and loan period in number of years from a text field, and should display the monthly and total payments for each interest rate starting from 5 percent to 8 percent, with increments of one-eighth, in a text area.

Submission:

Follow our class coding standard to complete this lab, check out for credit.